GLHN Adds Mechanical Designer Mike Rogers
New hire will enhance BIM and LEED design capabilities

Tucson, Arizona (July 22, 2009)— GLHN Architects & Engineers, Inc. welcomes Mike Rogers to the firm as Mechanical Designer. With more than ten years of design experience in HVAC, plumbing, fire protection, and industrial ventilation systems, Rogers previously served as Mechanical Designer on the Discovery Channel Telescope project currently under construction at Lowell Observatory near Flagstaff.

His arrival will further advance GLHN's capabilities in Building Information Modeling (BIM) and LEED energy and environmental design.
